

For Agents

IVANS Markets™

is the online tool
to find the best markets
for commercial risks.

IVANS Markets provides an online search tool that enables agents to instantly identify insurer appetite when you begin searching for markets to submit your new and renewal business.

The search immediately presents you with a list of insurers, MGAs and wholesalers with an appetite for the specific risk, providing access to more products.

IVANS enables you to reduce dependency on traditional, time-consuming methods of identifying insurer appetite – such as reviewing insurer risk guides, visiting insurer websites or relying on historical agent experience.

Leveraging IVANS' access to markets, your agency can build new business opportunities with appointed insurers and increase visibility into additional prospective insurer and MGA partners based on lines of business and products.

“ IVANS Markets expands our distribution footprint, enabling our agency to build new business opportunities with appointed insurers and increase visibility into additional prospective insurer and MGA partners. ”

Core Capabilities

Quick search

IVANS expands insurer appetite search beyond your current insurer partners, enabling you to search market appetite for common industries in a single click. Choose from 12 common industries to instantly see a list of in-appetite insurers to drive more new and renewal business.

Integrated search workflows

IVANS technology is accessed online and integrated into your daily workflows. The tool is available to all IVANS agencies and within nine agency management systems, including Applied Epic and Applied TAM, allowing you to search for insurer appetite directly from your agency management system.

Appointed markets

Your agents have the ability to indicate appointed markets, so your search results clearly indicate and rank your appointed insurer relationships by line of business.

Data-driven market insights

Agents can easily review the latest premium renewal rate change trends with easy-to-use dashboards to advise clients on expected renewal rates while ensuring that your insurers are providing the best coverage for the premium rate.

Growth Strategy

As part of IVANS Markets, account administrators can indicate future interest in specific lines of business directly to insurers and MGAs, so your agency is kept top-of-mind as insurers and MGAs search to market and distribute products via agent partners.
